What to Review

Compare the student's entryDate with the schoolLastDay displayed in the report. Review the student's enrollment record to confirm the school year, calendar, and enrollment dates.

An enrollment record may require correction when the entry date, school year, or calendar assignment does not accurately reflect the student's enrollment history.

Recommended Actions

Review the Student's Enrollment Record

- Open Menu > Select Student > Student Information > General > Enrollments.
- Locate the enrollment that matches the ReportEndYear, schoolCode, schoolName, and stateGrade shown in RPC06.
- Confirm that the enrollment is associated with the reporting school year, school, and calendar shown in NCSIS.
- Compare the enrollment's Start Date and entryDate in RPC06 and its End Date, if available, with exitDate.
- Review the student's enrollment history and supporting records to confirm whether the school, calendar, and dates reflect the student's actual enrollment.

Review the Calendar and start date and determine if the information is correct. This example displays the incorrect start date for the calendar.

Determine Whether a Correction Is Needed

A record appearing in RPC06 does not automatically mean that the enrollment is incorrect. Do not assume that the entry date is the only possible issue; verify the school year and calendar as well.

If the reporting year enrollment date, school year, or calendar appears incorrect, document the student, reporting year, school, and information that needs review. Because this is a prior year reporting record, do not change it as part of RP cleanup. Contact NCDPI for instructions before making a change.

Do not change an accurate enrollment record solely to clear RPC06. If the review identifies a separate retention or promotion issue, use Retentions/Promotions End of Summer (https://ncdepartmentofpublicinstruction.knowledgeowl.com/home/summerretentionpromotion) when the end of year decision was correct and the student's outcome changed over the summer. Use Retention/Promotion Corrections (https://ncdepartmentofpublicinstruction.knowledgeowl.com/home/retentionpromotion-corrections) when the end of year promotion or retention was entered incorrectly.

Note: Do not change enrollment dates solely to remove an RPC06 warning. Enrollment information must reflect the student's actual enrollment history.

Verify the Review or Correction

After reviewing the enrollment:

- If NCDPI directs a correction, follow the instructions provided. Allow the RP data to refresh overnight, then generate the (NC) Grade Level Retention and Promotion (RP) validation again and review RPC06.
- If no correction is directed, document the review and follow NCPDI's guidance. Do not change the enrollment solely to remove the warning.
